

Analysis of Feedbacks and Action Taken Report

A consolidated study based on the data collected for the last 5 years the pie-charts on the 8 parameters of regularity of Honours classes, regularity of General classes, library resources, academic atmosphere, IT facilities, discipline, canteen amenities and hostel facilities are a graphical presentation of the general quality of life in the institution.

The regularity of classes, both Honours and General is vouched for by the parents and guardians the average rating appearing in a miniscule proportion for both these parameters. Library resources have not fared as well probably because of the shortage of library staff at present. Academic atmosphere, too has received a thumbs up in the ratings awarded to it by this category of stakeholders, not surprising in the context of the upgraded teaching-learning interaction in the college. The rating for IT facilities, though commendable in itself should have garnered more support against the background of the efforts made in this direction by the institution. An overwhelming proportion, some 78% has voted in favour of discipline in the college only to be expected in the prevailing scenario of a methodical collegiality. While the response on canteen amenities has predictably dipped because of the irregularity of this service provided by changing vendors among other factors, hostel facilities have drawn at best, a fair rating. The drawbacks in the hostel as in the college are addressed from time to time.

Action has been taken in the spheres that require special attention. The kitchen and canteen have been renovated and modernized; a more reliable caterer/vendor has been appointed in place of the previous ones, more Aquaguard water filters have been installed, the washrooms for students, both day scholars and hostellers have been renovated and the hostel doors are in the process of being fortified for better security.
